

Title: Complex ODE and holomorphic foliations

Abstract: We will describe several geometric aspects of complex ordinary differential equations with recent result or open problems. The main approach is to consider the foliation defined by graphs of solutions of the ODE and study it as a geometric object. From this point of view, we can consider classification of singular points, special solutions, integrability and dynamical properties.